WHAT THEY THINK.

It has now got to the stage—and very properly, too—where the merchant who does not think it worth while to advertise his goods in the newspaper is regarded by the public as not having anything worth advertising. At any rate the merchants who advertise in The Journal are the ones with whom the buying public does its business.—Pensacola Journal.

ALWAYS WALKED.

A Russian conductor recently bit his tongue in two. He must have been trying to call the names of some of the towns that his train went through.—Atlanta Journal.

The Journal man evidently never rode on the cars. A conductor don't call the names of towns his train passes through. Only the ones where the train stops.

There is no denying the fact that the State institution at Chattahoochee needs a thorough investigation. The men and women about such places should be the best that can be secured, and it should also be borne in mind that their duties are very trying. But the superintendent should be a man and no politician or demagogue.

The latest reports are not sure as to whether dynamite or nitro-glycerine is the favorite explosive that will be used to blow up the Czar. Whichever is used will give the administration an upward tendency.

The strawberry growers of North Carolina will sue the Atlantic Coast Line for upwards of $100,000 for damages to crops in not getting their berries through on schedule time.

Ever since Gen. Stoessel surrendered Fort Arthur the Russians have been looking up evidence to have him shot or otherwise punished. They think they have him now.

There is no discount on Florida. Her resources are not tourists as a whole. There is room for business here, but it will be "standing room only" if the pace keeps up.

Cuba will soon have a system of electric interurban railways that will surpass anything of the kind in any country, unless it be in the United States.

The Japanese government has no use for bandits. They hanged 60 in six days in the country surrounding Tokyo.

Secretary Wilson of the Agricultural Department may have to do a little summer fallow work to clear his farm.

A Western city has decided to have a parade for the surgeon of the day at the next Fourth of July celebration.

Officials who are guilty of indiscretions should take warning from Loomis and keep still about it.

PRESIDENT SLEDD.

There is an old saying among sailors that seldom fails to prove true, that "you can always tell a craft by the cut of her jib." This may not always apply to men, but it is often the case that those who would impress the people frequently assume what they are not and inculcate a wrong idea.

President Sledd of the University of Florida made his first visit to Gainesville on Friday. The first impression one gets of this man of letters is that he is a shrewd business man. He makes no effort to convey the idea that he is anything but one of the people, although he has a reserve about him that one cannot help but admire.

He is a comparatively young man, enthusiastic on educational matters, full of ambition for the welfare of the University and a man who will put life into whatever he undertakes when sustained by a people who are ready to do their portion.

President Sledd will find the people of Gainesville in accord with educational advancement, and if we mistake not, the people will find him a progressive director of the affairs of the University, well fitted by education and experience to advance it along the highest plane of efficiency.

MUST PAY FOR GROWTH.

The Index simply "rises to remark" that Gainesville was awarded the University in spite of the fact that the State of Florida has large investments in Lake City. This will be a matter that the taxpayers of Florida will have their attention called to at the proper time and those who are guilty must pay the penalty.—Lake City Index.

The only trouble in this case, when it comes to paying taxes, if there is any to pay on, the saint and the sinner will fare alike, and if they like it and want it, let 'em have it. It is the old story of the capital removal question several years ago. Oh, so many people said why remove the capital when a building already exists? Why tax us for what we already have? It went for Tallahassee and it didn't alter the situation. It was $75,000 for enlargement, now $25,000 for a governor's mansion, and more money for capitol room. You must pay for your growth, improvements and facilities. In this case it was only whether they should go to Lake City or Gainesville, and the board chose the latter.—Ocala Star.

FROM THE STATE PRESS.

The State University has been located at Gainesville by the Board of Control and the Board of Education acting in conjunction. The vote stood four for Lake City and six for Gainesville. In the language of The White Springs Herald, "our sympathy goes to Lake City and congratulations to Gainesville." The News hopes that all bitter speech will be suppressed and forever forgotten, and that all portions of our great State will now rally to the support of the University—our University.—Cocoa and Rockledge News.

Gainesville has secured the State University and she is to be congratulated. She put up a good fight to secure the University and we trust that she will make equally as strenuous efforts to promote its every interest now that she has secured it. If the University makes a record equivalent to that made by the East Florida Seminary we will have one which everyone in the State can look upon with pride, and there will no longer be any necessity for our youth going out of the State to complete their education.—Dunnellon Advocate.

Gainesville never had as much fun in her life as when her committee got back from Tallahassee victorious in their effort to land the University for their town. It was Christmas and the Fourth of July combined, multiplied by it, and it was such honest and well-earned joy that even the defeated aspirants could not begrudge her the happiness she felt. She has fairly won the great prize after a great fight, and although our sympathies were with our neighbor, Lake City, now that the issue has been finally determined, we present to Gainesville our sincere congratulations accompanied by the renewed assurance of our distinguished consideration.—Live Oak Democrat.
